Marshalship of the D. C.

It is understood that the President has nostpened for the time being, the task of coming to a final conclusion as to who shall fill this important office for the balance of his administration, and that the present efficient and popular incumbent, J. D. Hoover, esq., has been not fied that he is to hold over at least until President Buchanan determines whose name he will send to the Senate for the place .-- Wash. Star.

Mr. Joseph H Harris, a former citizan of Richmond, was brutally murdered at New Providence, near Clarksville, Tennessee, a little more than a week ago, by a negro in his employment. Prompt and speedy justice was administered to the murderer. He was seized by the infuriated people, and, after a vain endeavor to extort a confession, was bung up to a tree. After some further demonstrations, he was made to acknowledge his crime. He stated that he the fireplace and set fire to the house. The crowd, after hearing this revolting statement, again applied the halter and the negro was hung until life was extinct.
